

Jeffery Ryan Hurley MD

JeffHurleyMD@Hotmail.com

OBJECTIVES

- Practice Emergency Medicine to the best of my ability
 - Provide compassionate and professional care to all patients
 - Practice evidence based medicine and develop skills for self-improvement
-

EDUCATION

Charles Drew University Martin Luther King Jr. Hospital, Emergency Medicine Residency Program, Los Angeles, CA ■ July 2002 to Present

Emergency Medicine Resident, PGY III

- Chief Resident
- Licensed in the State of California
- ATLS/ACLS/BLS/PALS Certified
- Clinical Presentation Competition at the Society of Academic Emergency Medicine Boston Conference, Case Presentation: Infective Endocarditis and Septic Embolization, May 2003
- Emergency Medicine Residents Association Representative
- Joint Committee of Interns and Residents equipment procurement fund delegate
- Journal Club Key Note Speaker, Topic: Activated Protein C in Severe Sepsis, November 2002
- Research Project in progress: Comparison between the Standard Ophthalmoscope and the PanOptic™ Ophthalmoscope in Detecting Retinal Pathology by the Emergency Medicine Physician
- Extensive experience in invasive procedures and ultrasound
- Nation In-Service Exam Score: Top Ten Percent in the Nation in 2003, 2004

Wayne State University School of Medicine, Detroit, MI ■ August 1998 to June 2002

Doctor of Medicine

- USMLE Step 1 99th Percentile, USMLE Step 2 94th Percentile, USMLE Step 3 91st Percentile
- First Year Honors
- Final Class Ranking: 18%
- Volunteer Programs: Adolescent Substance Abuse Program and STD/AIDS Education Program

University of California Irvine, Irvine, CA ■ June 1996 to August 1996

Post-Graduate Studies

- Emphasis on pharmacology

University of California Los Angeles, Los Angeles, CA ■ September 1992 to June 1996

Bachelors of Science in Biology

- Graduated cum laude
- Departmental Honors in Biology
- Dean's Honor List
- 218 credits

EXPERIENCE

Charles Drew University Martin Luther King Jr. Hospital, Emergency Medicine Residency Program, Los Angeles, CA ■ July 2002 to Present

- Chief Resident

Charles Drew University Martin Luther King Jr. Hospital, Neurosurgical ICU Moonlighting, Los Angeles, CA ■ October 2003 to Present

- Management of neurosurgical ICU patients

Charles Drew University Martin Luther King Jr. Hospital, Triage Moonlighting, Los Angeles, CA ■ September 2003 to Present

- Over 40 extra shifts

Charles Drew University Martin Luther King Jr. Hospital, Neurology Consult Moonlighting, Los Angeles, CA ■ September 2003 to May 2004

- Neurology consults and admissions

EMPLOYMENT

Wayne State University School of Medicine, Detroit, MI ■ June 1999 to August 1999

Anatomy Prosector

- Prepared dissections for incoming class
- Assisted students with identifying anatomical structures and relationships

24 Hour Fitness, Rancho Santa Margarita, CA ■ August 1996 to August 1998

Personal Trainer

- Certification through the American College of Exercise
- Provided individualized instruction in weight management, nutrition, kinesiology and exercise physiology
- Directed clients in continuing physical therapy and in behavior modification
- Multidisciplinary personal training workshops

Advanced Computers and Technologies, Mission Viejo, CA ■ August 1996 to June 1998
Computer and Software Installation Specialist

- Built computers, software installation, and education of clients

Toastmasters International, Rancho Santa Margarita, CA ■ July 1996 to July 1998
Member and Secretary

- Participation in impromptu and prepared speeches
- Conducted meets and evaluated presentations
- Maintained records of meetings and assisted with monthly news reports

Cardiac Cellular Physiology Laboratory, Dr. Scott Henderson, Department of Physiological Sciences, UCLA, Los Angeles, CA ■ March 1995 to June 1996

Biological Research

- Investigation into the potential role of prostaglandins in cardiac hypertrophy
- Independently responsible for the production of two poly-clonal antibodies
- Gene splicing, bacterial transfection, expression assays, affinity chromatography, protein quantification, adjuvant creation, and immunochemistry
- Responsible for project status reports and presentations

Private Practice Clinic, Dr. Nichols, Mission Viejo, CA ■ June 1995 to September 1995
Volunteer

- Assisted with outpatient procedures and office duties

PUBLICATIONS

Bolus until Better, Lifeline, CAL/ACEP, May/June 2004, Page 10 ■ May 2004

Resident's View

- Comparison between medications that have indications for bolus administration and the imbalances between resources in the county health care system

SPECIAL INTERESTS AND EXPERIENCES

- Golf, weight lifting, running, rock climbing, snowboarding, billiards, table tennis
- Academic interest in weight training for weight loss
- Academic Interest in nutrition
- Interest in current events and economics

- Extensive computer expertise
- Web page design
- Former member of the UCLA Chess Club
- Basic competence in speaking, reading and writing Spanish

MEMBERSHIPS

- American Medical Association
- American College of Emergency Physicians
- Emergency Medicine Residents Association

REFERENCES

Eugene Hardin, MD, FACEP. Chairman Department of Emergency Medicine, Program Director, Director of Research.

Department of Emergency Medicine, Room 1034
12021 S. Wilmington Ave, Los Angeles, CA 90059

John Kare, MD, FACEP. Clinical Professor. Director of Resident Research.

Department of Emergency Medicine, Room 1034
12021 S. Wilmington Ave, Los Angeles, CA 90059

Daniel Kahsai, MD, FACEP. Clinical Professor. Assistant Program Director.

Department of Emergency Medicine, Room 1034
12021 S. Wilmington Ave, Los Angeles, CA 90059

Amiram Shniederman, MD, PhD, FACEP. Clinical Professor. Associate Program Director.

Department of Emergency Medicine, Room 1034
12021 S. Wilmington Ave, Los Angeles, CA 90059

Ryan Hines, MD. Senior Resident.

Department of Emergency Medicine, Room 1034
12021 S. Wilmington Ave, Los Angeles, CA 90059